

Poetic Reflections

by Sally Mahé

Mastery and ITP San Rafael group member

Inspired by a few days of quiet retreat she took over the New Year's weekend, Sally Mahé shares moments captured in words and images:

Winter Rose

defiant in the frosty morning, still beautiful in late December, this old rose was filled with love, its fragrance drew me close

Gesture

grace comes in gestures, a little bouquet of weathered roses, brave in the hard frost, were given to me by the gardener as I passed by
